
Clique topology (Giusti et al. 2015): pairs of neurons are joined in order of their correlation, strongest first.
Correlations set by distance on a circle join neighbours first and form one ring; a random order forms many loops that come and go.
The area under the Betti 1 curve, as a fraction of random's, is the measure: near 0 for geometric orders, 1 for chance.